LET US PRAY -

- With thankful hearts for answered prayer and providential guidance.
- For each other. For protection where it is needed, for bravery when it is called for and for boldness where it is demanded.
- That we might be bringers of grace and love to each and everyone whom we meet.
- For those of our friends and fellowship who are not too well, especially John & Marjorie and Stewart and for those who are caring for them.
- For our local churches for renewed vigour and that they become places where the Saviour is welcomed and worshipped and where people find sanctuary and solace in troubling times.
- Over the ever-deepening conflict in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.
- For continued wisdom and guidance regarding the major maintenance work required with church.
- “Lord, give me grace to hold righteousness in all things that I may lead a clean and blessed life and prudently flee evil and that I may understand the treacherous and deceitful falseness of the devil.

Make me mild, peaceable, courteous, and temperate.

And make me steadfast and strong.

Also, Lord, give Thou to me that I be quiet in words and that I speak what is appropriate.” John Wycliffe

God's Word is abroad (in Scotland)

Back in March we were on a short break in and around Glasgow.

Strolling down Sauchiehall Street we were interrupted from our reverie by an elderly gentleman who was handing out some leaflets.

As I'm sure we all know, being accosted on the street by someone trying to persuade us to join an organisation or sign up to some kind of charity is not unusual, and – for us at any rate – our first response was to walk on by.

But catching a most remarkable twinkle in the gentleman's eye we could do no other but to stop and chat.

And in a most gentle and gentlemanly manner he shared his leaflet – and his gospel story – with us.

As we went on our respective ways and we agreed to meet in Glory, what a great encouragement he was to us and, considering perhaps all those shoppers passing by on the other side, we were able to be of encouragement to him.

God calls each of us into different situations and without doubt he knew his.

And if you're ever in that vicinity, look out for him – and pray for him and his ministry.

Matthew 25:21

...“His master replied, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness!’...
